#3 of "Nature of Shinshu" Single Malt named for the spring time dandelions
Notes: Floral, Caramel, Vanilla, Mint Finish
Region: Nagano

The third release in the nature of Shinshu range is the Shinanotanpopo single malt Japanese Whisky, made by combining a well-aged whisky from their warehouses with a much younger whisky. "Shinanotanpopo" translates to 'dandelion flower'

Tasting Note: Summer berry tart with a scoop of vanilla ice cream. Palate of floral malt starts to take control on the palate, though sweetness of blueberries and caramel continues to hold its ground

Mars- The Lucky Cat *NEW

#2 Release of 'Sommelier Series' – Finished in Pinot Noir Wine Cask
Notes: Malt, Red Fruit, Floral, Baking Spice, Leather
Region: Kansai

Tasting Notes: This is the second release from the Tokiawa Imports Sommerlier Series. Two Pinot Noir casks from a renowned winery in Lompoc, California, were sourced and curated by Master Sommerlier Kenneth Fredrickson. Four year old single malt initially aged in ex-Bourbon barrels spent an additional 18 months in these Pinot Noir casks resulting in production of 500 bottles of this rare release.

Ichiro's – Malt & Grain Prefecture: Grain: Blended Malt Distillery: Eigashima License Issued: 1919 Notes: Sea Air, Peat, Yellow Apple Located next to Kobe Bay, Eigashima is the closest whisky distillery to the Japan Sea who's ocean laden air is reflected in the saline purity of this whisky. Eigashima was founded in 1888 and received their whisky license in 1919 making them the first Japanese whisky distiller. This whisky is light and playful with a touch of peat that doesn't overpower the orchard fruit and delicate sea air notes.	Iwai- Komagatake Shinanotanpopo Prefecture: Nagano Grain: Blended Malt Distillery: Mars Shinshu License Issued: 1949 Notes: Ripe Cherry, Toffee, Ginger Spice Sandwiched between Japan's Southern and Central alps, Mars Shinshu is the highest whisky distillery at 2,400ft.
